- Inquests into the 52 deaths arising from the 7 July 2005 London bombings: Instructed as sole junior for the British Transport Police.

Public Inquiries

Leanne has been involved in a number of long-running, high profile inquests and inquiries. She has significant experience of dealing with disclosure and public interest immunity issues, including High Court applications.

Selected Cases

- Public inquiry into hyponatraemia-related paediatric deaths in Northern Ireland: Appeared for 3 different healthcare practitioners in a long-running public inquiry in Northern Ireland, investigating the deaths of 5 children in N.I. hospitals.

Public Law

Leanne undertakes a broad range of public law and human rights work for both claimants and defendants in the fields of:

- Health and mental health
- Prisons
- Inquests
- Professional discipline and regulatory proceedings
- Police law

She also has significant experience of dealing with disclosure and public interest immunity issues, including High Court applications.

Selected Cases

- Commissioner of Police of the Metropolis v NHS England: Instructed by the Metropolitan Police in a judicial review of the publication of conclusions reached by NHS England in a serious incident report that criticised the police's exercise of powers under s.136 Mental Health Act 1983.
- W v Ministry of Justice: Acted for the MoJ in a claim brought for an alleged breach of Article 8 arising out of a prison service decision to prevent contact between a father and son.
- X v Google Inc. : Acted for a police force in a High Court application to vary an order for disclosure of information based on the potential prejudice that disclosure would have to the police investigation into serious crime. Application was made urgently and without notice and included requests for anonymity.
- M v Commissioner of Police of the Metropolis: Represented the Metropolitan Police in a judicial review challenge to a police decision not to refer a case to the CPS prior to discontinuing an investigation into a rape allegation.

Professional Discipline & Regulation

Leanne has significant experience in the field of professional discipline and her practice includes the regulation of healthcare professionals, the police and the military. In the healthcare field, Leanne regularly appears in interim and full hearings in the MPTS, the GDC and other tribunals. She also acts for practitioners in NHS England proceedings and in internal disciplinary hearings brought by NHS Trusts. Leanne acts in police and MOD police misconduct hearings, including as a legal advisor. She has been described by a Metropolitan Commander as the most effective presenting officer who had appeared before her.

Leanne is a tenacious advocate and skilled at cross-examination and is known for her client friendly approach and sound judgment.

Selected Cases

- GMC v Dr N: Appeared at a FTP hearing before the MPTS on behalf of a doctor accused of inappropriate sexual relationships with 2 patients, dishonesty and clinical failures. While the GMC argued that erasure was the appropriate sanction, the Panel imposed a short suspension.
- GMC v Dr B: In a highly contentious review hearing concerning a doctor's mental health, Leanne undermined the reliability of the GMC's evidence of alcohol testing and persuaded the Panel that previously imposed conditions relating to alcohol consumption had not been breached.
- GDC v Dr S: Leanne appeared for a practitioner who had criminal convictions for prescribing-related offences in a mixed health and misconduct FTP case.
- GMC v Dr M: Acted at an interim hearing for a doctor accused of a number of dishonesty allegations, including criminal fraud. The GMC argued for an interim suspension in the public interest but Leanne persuaded the Panel that conditions were sufficient.

Sports Law

Leanne's sports law experience comes from both the self-employed bar and working in the sports law team at Charles Russell Speechlys. She undertakes contentious and non-contentious work for governing bodies, athletes and clubs. Leanne has recently been instructed by a national funding body in relation to challenges to funding decisions.

Leanne also applies her clinical negligence and personal injury experience in sporting cases and has been involved in rugby-concussion cases and claims by athletes injured from substandard training facilities.
